

Cramps favorite songs:

"Howlin' for My Darlin' " by Howlin' Wolf (primitive rural blues)

"In the Quiet of the Town" by the 5 Red Caps (pre-doo-wop stuff)

"Funnel of Love" by Wanda Jackson (more country than rockabilly)

"Give Me My Money" by Al Bernard and the Goofus 5

"The Night We Called It a Day" by Frank Sinatra (The title speaks for itself, but you can use it as a funny excuse to call in sick.)

"Hot Rod Hades" by Charlie Ryan and the Timberline Riders (Lyrically, a morality play; musically, a precursor for Commander Cody's "Hot Rod Lincoln")

"Genocide" by Link Wray (Mondo rockabilly guitar instrumental for mondo people)

"Now That It's Over" by the Falcons (Northern gospel soul group featuring Eddie Floyd and a young Wilson Pickett)

"Cry Over Me" by Lonesome Lee

"Monkey Love" by Larry Kennon
